We wish to thank Graciela for her kind and considered review of our Introduction to the Special Issue on Climate of the Past 2000 Years: Global and Regional Syntheses. Whilst we sympathize with the suggestion for a map showing the location, resolution, time range, and methods of the studies published, we consider this short Introduction already effectively captures these key elements in the Special Issue in a short format. Our intention was simply to provide a context to the global PAGES 2k endeavor and the value of international interdisciplinary studies for better understanding the past two millennia. We hope this article succinctly achieves just that.
